Global Spend Had Outgrown the Systems Meant to Manage It

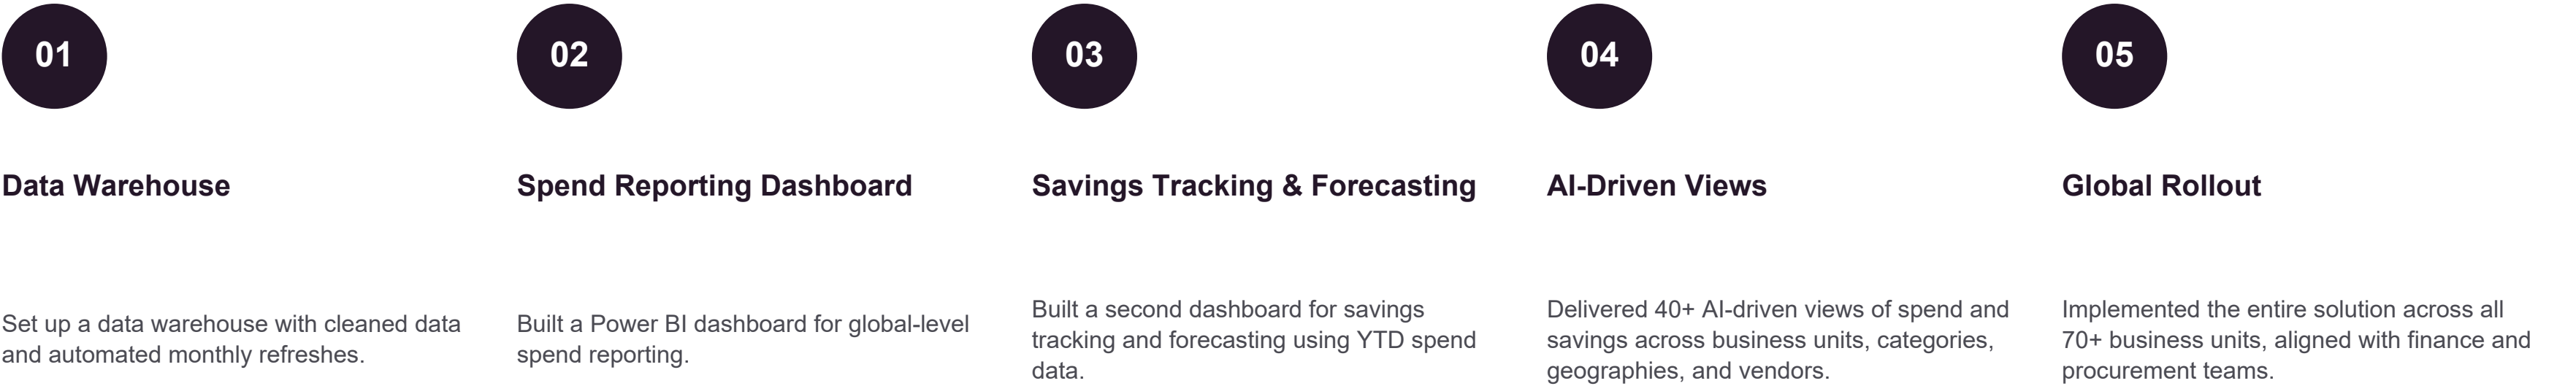

With €2B+ in spend across 100+ brands, the business needed to embrace digitalization to manage spend, identify tail spend and savings strategically, and strive for continuous improvement.

One Connected Spend Intelligence Program Across 70+ Business Units

STATXO set up a data warehouse with cleaned data and automated refreshes, then built the dashboards that turned visibility into action.

SpendXO: The Platform Behind ~5%+ Savings Potential

STATXO's data warehouse and AI-driven dashboards unified €2B+ in spend across 70+ business units, 500+ categories, and 27K+ suppliers. By consolidating direct, indirect, maverick and tail spend into 40+ views, the platform identified savings potential of over ~5% of total spend while giving Procurement and Finance teams a single source of truth.

STATXO stayed accountable from the data warehouse through global rollout across all 70+ business units. That end-to-end ownership is what turned fragmented ERP data into dashboards Procurement and Finance teams use today.

The Team Closest to the Problem, on What Changed

STATXO helped us to establish full visibility of our global direct & indirect spend and to align the organization behind a well-defined opportunity. They understood our internal complexity and provided us very efficient dashboards (spend and savings) including actionable category playbooks and drove clarity of our strategic plan.
